ON WITH THE DANCE ONLY IF THE LIGHTS ARE ON AT C. C. N. Y.

"Moonlight" Numbers Arouse Opposition and Suspicion of Student Council.

At the recent Intercollegiate Disarmament Conference at Princeton, James Flynn, a C. C. N. Y. senior, was appointed the representative of New York State on the committee of twelve which is to draw up a set of peace plans for consideration at Washington. Mr. Flynn was unanimously elected to this post from among the delegates of thirty-one New York colleges and universities.

Registration for courses in the care and operation of the automobile and in ignition systems will be open all next week. These courses have proved so popular that it has been decided to institute a mid-year session to run for the full sixteen weeks. Classes will be conducted in the morning, afternoon and evening.

Early in the week the Douglas Society, an organization of negro students, gave an exhibition of African art. Francis Corbin, President of the club, spoke on the abilities of the negro as manifested in the various articles on exhibit.

The Student Council of C. C. N. Y. is endeavoring to combat the epidemic of "moonlight" dancing, fast becoming a feature of college functions. A committee has been appointed to see that all dances held in the gymnasium are provided with more illumination than that furnished by a single spotlight.

The Athletic Association, encouraged by the showing made by the experimental freshman eleven this season, has voted unanimously in favor of placing a varsity football team on the gridiron next year.

NEIGHBORS LIFT 16 YEARS' BAN ON BELL AT C. C. N. Y.

Facetious Remark That It Could Be Heard 20 Miles Silenced Chime After First Note.

After a silence of sixteen years the City College chapel bell will once more resound through Washington Heights. As the result of a petition presented by the students it has been decided to ring the bell every Tuesday morning as the college gathers for the weekly assembly.

In its entire history the massive bell has been sounded only once from the City College tower. This was at the dedication of the new college buildings in 1905 when Mrs. Cleveland, the wife of the former President, gave the initial tug to the bell rope.

It was at the request of the public that the chimes were silenced. A newspaper, in its report of the dedication, facetiously announced that the bell could be heard for "twenty miles around." The quiet-loving residents of the heights raised their voices in protest against the threatened invasion of noise and successfully petitioned the Mayor to prohibit the college authorities from ringing the bell.

Club of Teachers College at the Horace Mann auditorium Tuesday. A Chinese drama will be presented and translated into English, and there will be songs and recitations in both languages. The proceeds will comprise the gift of the club to the Teachers College Library Fund. MORE ATHLETICS IS DEMANDED BY GIRLS AT HUNTER

Physical Examination and Two Years' Compulsory Training Urged in Petition to Faculty.

The cast of the Christmas plays to be given by the Hunter College seniors in the College Chapel Dec. 23, has been chosen. Frances Greenberg will coach Jeannette Mark's "Merry Merry Cuckoo" with the following cast: Blanche Jacobs, Annie Dorothy Hubschmidt, David, Annie Michels, Morris; Jane Dupuy, Lowry; Sara Karnis, Guto, Sara Farber will coach Barrie's "Rosalind." The cast, Elizabeth Hatch, Rosalind; Anna Meade, Charles, and Augusta Holzer, Dame Quickly, Katherine Kasser, Chairman of Dramatics, and Elise Jacobs, Chairman of Christmas Plays, will also direct the performance.

The Alumnae Association of Hunter College has invited the Sophomore Class to its annual tea at College Dec. 7, in the Music Room.

The Athletic Association is circulating a petition to the faculty requesting the establishment of a physical examination on entrance to the college and compulsory physical training or athletics for two years instead of one year, as at present. The petition further provides for corrective classes for those not passing the entrance examinations, and offers hockey, basketball, indoor tennis, swimming, horse-back riding, and games as alternative for physical training classes in the second year. Swimming is becoming quite popular. Others furnish incentives for frequent attendance at the pool.

COLUMBIA RENEWS OPTION UPON SITE FOR BIG STADIUM

Undergraduates Will Be Asked to Support Project Before Appeal Is Made to Alumni.

The Columbia Stadium Committee has renewed, probably for six months, for the sum of $10,000, the option on the "Dykman Street Acreage," upon which the committee hopes to construct the stadium. The price of the site is $700,000. Two new undergraduate members elected to the committee were Warren M. Squires, Editor-in-Chief of Spectator, and Lester Watson, Chairman of the Student Board. It has been learned that the committee plans to make its first drive for funds among the undergraduates and then later carry on a campaign by means of which every alumnus will be asked to contribute to the project.

With the opening of classes again Monday the social season on Morningside Heights will be in full force until the Christmas recess, which begins Dec. 23. The annual show of the Philolexin Society, the literary organization, is going into its final rehearsal. The Sophomore show is bending all its efforts to the opening performance Dec. 15, the musical clubs are giving a series of concerts and the various fraternities are holding Christmas dances. Midterm examinations are over so the thought of these things are over, so the thought of these things.

Hockey practice begins Monday at the 151st Street Ice Palace. With Capt. Anderson and "Dink" Squires, the speedy cover-point of the six, to form a nucleus the Blue and White expects to produce a winning combination this year. More than thirty men have reported to date for the sport, one of the largest turnouts in the history of hockey on the Heights.

Spectator, the college newspaper, has just announced the election of six men to the Associate News Board and two men to the Business Board. The elections included by the New York City, Charles D. Bennett, James A. Bernson, John T. Cahill, Herbert S. Solow and Aaron Berg.

Electric Heat

Electric heat, like electric light, is instantaneously available, wherever electric service is used. It makes a delightful warmth in the bath room, nursery, sick room, or any room of the house—or sitting at one's desk in the office

For removing the chill of frosty mornings or cool evenings, an electric heater gives a service in heat, equal to that of the electric lamp in illumination

A wide range of choice, in design and finish is available. Many examples, costing from $8.50 to $11.50, will be found at the electrical shops of the city, and on exhibition at our several Showrooms

The cost of the electric current is a little over a cent for each quarter-hour of use—and at the same rate for longer use and the heater may be easily moved from room to room

Kill Your Cold Over Sunday

GO back to work Monday feeling better than you have since you returned from your vacation. A quick cure isn't possible with drugs that merely relieve the symptoms of a cold. You must strike at the cause—kill the germs in the system that cause the cold.

If you really want to be well by Monday, just omit the quinine for the fever, the aspirin for the headache, the syrup for the cough, the liniment for the chest—that's the long way, the slow way, the dangerous way.

If you want to feel well by Monday, stop at the druggist's on your way home to-day and get a bottle of Creofos. Take a few doses to-night. Take it regularly to-morrow. Sunday night the cold germs, the influenza germs, the pneumonia germs will be gone from the system. And when the germs are dead the symptoms of the cold disappear. Creofos for result!

Creofos has long been used by noted physicians and in the great hospitals, and is now sold by all druggists. In three household household packages: the Liquid Creofos, $1.25; Creofos Capsules, for convenience, $1.50; Creofos, in surplus for coughs, $1.50. Economical; fully guaranteed.
